Expectation of River Competition Affects Price of Local Corporation"s Securities.

The annoucement of oPtomac river mpetition of strong character for the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company had the effect today of softening the quotations of the stock softening the quotations of the stock on the local exchange, though no transaction result. The bid price was lowered 3 points to 192 and the asked. 2 points to 192 and the asked. 2 points to 190.

It is realized that the through business which the Norfolk and Washington Company gets from the oPtomac and Chesapeake Steamboat Company will be eliminated and that there will be two bidders for business both to Norfolk and New York. New business to be developed, however, ought to result in better things for both lines eventually, it is considered.

House Thief Fails In Two Attempts

A daring housebreaker was thwarted in two attempted robberies in the fashionable residential section early today.

Awakened by an unusual noise shortly before 4 o'clock, members of the family of William J. Flather, vice president of the Riggs National Bank, living at 2023 R street northwest, got out of bed in time to see the would-be thief dash out of the front door. The only description which they could give the police of the man was that he was short and stockly built and wore dark clothes and a black derby hat.

ON LAST OF MONTH

Employes to Receive One Day

All Treasury Department employes will be paid on the last day of the month in the future, instead of on the first or second. In response to an inquiry from Secretary McAdoo, the Comptroller held that payments could just as well be made on the last day of the month as on the first day of the next month, and that there was nothing in the law to prohibit such payments. the Comptroller held that payments could just as well be made on the last day of the menth as on the first day of the menth and that there was nothing in the law to prohibit such payments.

Pay rolls can be certified on the last day, and employes paid on that day, and employes paid on that day, he held. The fact that an employe's status, might be changed by death, dismissal, suspension, or other incident, would not change the status for that day, it being recognized that such employe would get the full day's pay. Even in case of demotion, the Comptroller held it would not affect the status of that day.

It is recognized the Comptroller held that salaries for the day, are earned as soon as the day begins, and there are few things that could otherwise change the status. The chief objection to payments on the last day was that employes, particularly piece rate employes, might be absent without pay for a part of the day. The Comptroller overruled this by declaring that correction could be made in this case, that at present

The noise which awakened the household was the rattling of the chain on the inside of the front door. Investigation showed that the intruder had entered by removing a screen from a rear window. It is believed he unlocked the front door and removed the chain bolt for the purpose of opening the door so that he could make a hasty exit if necessary.

A short time before the attempt to rob the Flather home a housebreaker, believed to be the same man, was heard in in home of Mrs. Catherine V. Young. 2027 Hillyer place. The intruder made so much noise that he awakened those sleeping in the house, but before any one got down stairs he had left by the front door, which was found ajar. A screen had also been removed from a rear window of the Young home.
